

PAIR ANGELIC QUALITIES WITH THEIR OPPOSITES

- ◆ Cut apart the qualities or activities listed below.
- ◆ See if you can match each one with something that seems to be its opposite.
- ◆ These opposites show us the choices that we have—each day—to act in ways that make the angels happy or to act in ways that make evil spirits happy.

Optional: Choose one of the angelic qualities and write a short story about someone who is struggling to acquire it. For example, you could write about someone who has good reason to be afraid but is trying to trust in the Lord and have courage. Or write a story about someone who has a tendency to blame other people until something prompts a change.

appreciation	courage	fear
helping	hurting	blame
kind words for others	complaining	stealing thinking about the Lord and about others	forgiveness	criticism
hate	being happy for others	being jealous of others
laziness	honesty	love
gracious	cheerful	“prickly”
grouchy	thinking only about oneself	disobeying parents
kindness	sharing	meanness
usefulness	obeying parents	telling lies
