

Bless the Lord Calligraphy Project

This is a festival project designed by Ruth Davis Gyllenhaal.

It would be a lovely decoration for Thanksgiving and harvest celebrations as well as serving as a continual reminder to count our blessings!

NOTE: You may want to print (or photocopy) the calligraphy page onto card stock or cover stock before coloring it.

Suggested Materials

colored pencils, gel pens, fine tip markers, or paints
optional: gold metallic marker

Coloring Suggestions

Option A:

- The word "LORD" may be colored with a gold metallic marker or painted with gold paint.
- You might want to use a bit of gold on the leaves and vines in the border and around the illuminated letters: B, L, and A.
- Make the B red, the border around it blue, the small figs yellow, the leaf green, and the motifs purple.
- For the L, make the border red, the grapes purple, and the leaf green.
- Make the A purple, the border blue, the small pomegranate a dark red, the leaves green, and the motifs red.

Option B:

- The word "LORD" may be colored red. Color the whole square around the L with a gold metallic marker or paint it with gold paint. Then use a colored pencil or marker for the grapes.
- Make the letters B and A blue or purple. Then color the squares around them with gold metallic marker or paint.
- Make the grapes light green, purple, and reddish-purple.
- Make the figs yellow-brown.
- Color the pomegranates dark red.
- Make all of the leaves around the page green.

Bless

O my soul,
and forget not all His benefits.
