

Hearts Picturing Marriage

Picture the marriage of parents (or other relatives) with 2 hearts, one red and one white.

Suggested Materials:

heart template
white paper (such as construction paper)
red paper (such as construction paper)
background paper
pencil
scissors
glue stick

Procedure:

1. Trace around the heart template on the white paper to make a white heart.
2. Trace around the heart template on the red paper to make a red heart.
3. Help your child write “Daddy” on the white heart and “Mommy” on the red heart. (Note: You may want to write “husband” and “wife” on the hearts in situations where the parents are divorced.)
4. Glue the hearts side by side on another piece of paper.
5. Optional: Let child draw a picture of Mommy beside red heart and of Daddy beside white heart.
6. Glue the text slip (see below) underneath the project.

Conjugal love has its origin in the marriage of Divine good and truth,
and so in the Lord Himself (Arcana Coelestia 2728).
