

The Ten Commandments

Lesson Series for Ages 3-14

Teach the Ten Commandments from a New Church perspective! A new series of 11 lessons, beginning with an introduction on how the commandments were given at Mount Sinai. Each commandment is taught through a story in the Old or New Testament, carefully chosen to model the commandment's message. Many stories illustrate both the negative effects of breaking a commandment and the positive effects of keeping it. The commandment and the story are woven together throughout each lesson.

The illustrated scripted lessons include 3 sets of readings, questions and activities designed for ages 3-6, 7-10, and 11-14. The opening and conclusion of each lesson brings all ages together. These print-and-go lessons include short teachings from the Writings for teacher background, use readily accessible materials for the projects and activities, and are easy to teach from using the color-coded overview chart showing all the options. Teachers or parents can choose what will work best with their children.
